

Expanded Interiors

Bringing contemporary site-specific fine-art practice to Roman houses at Herculaneum and Pompeii

News & Events

Workshops in with local teachers in Herculaneum

In January 2018, the Expanded Interiors team including Catrin Huber, Rosie Morris and with the fantastic support of Francesca del Duca from the Herculaneum Conservation project led 3 workshops at Parco Archeologico di Ercolano, the third was with local teachers from Herculaneum and the surrounding area.

The aim of the workshop was to introduce and involve local teachers with the Expanded Interiors project and the Maiuri Pop-Up, and to explore objects from and wall paintings within the Parco Archeologico di Ercolano. As a group we shared ideas and create content to form a Resource Pack (Learning and Teaching Material), which can have a broader impact on surrounding schools. We would really like to keep teachers involved with the project inviting them to co-deliver workshops with us in October 2019 to test how our ideas work in practice.

Catrin Huber and local teachers visit Casa del Bel Cortile and discuss how it was used by Amedeo Maiuri for the Open Museum.

Catrin and Francesca del Duca (HCP) introduce teachers to Roman objects from the storerooms, here wonderful examples of Roman lamps.

The group discuss examples of mischevious objects, both Roman and contemporary. What is the role and function of an object, does this change and how can it misbehave?

Local teachers work with clay to produce their own mischievous objects.

Last modified: Tue, 23 Oct 2018 15:43:25 BST

Parco Archeologico
di Ercolano

Research funded by the European Union
THE HERCULANEUM CONSERVATION PROJECT
An initiative of the Park of the Roman Heritage in collaboration with the Italian Heritage Authorities and other partners

Images courtesy of Expanded Interiors, su concessione del MINISTERO DEI BENI E DELLE ATTIVITA' CULTURALI E DEL TURISMO - PARCO ARCHEOLOGICO EROCOLANO & PARCO ARCHEOLOGICO POMPEI

Expanded Interiors

Expanded Interiors, Newcastle University, NE1 7RU, UK

Telephone: (0191) 208 6000