P4: Right. Oh, no, too far in.

Interviewer: Hmm.

P4: There I am.

Interviewer: All right [P4], what did you create today? What did you build on?

P4: Well it's starting the project which will have a box, a ball, and a little device which looks more like a bin at the minute.

Interviewer: Hmmhmm.

P4: So you can put the ball in it, or on it, and it'll keep that still.

Interviewer: Ah.

P4: So then, if you're going somewhere to show it, like, you want to show your parents for example, you don't have to worry about space because you can take the ball off and have that separate.

Interviewer: Oh right, cool.

P4: But with the 3D Printer being a pain and being a bit temperamental...

Interviewer: Yes.

P4: We're working ways round getting that printed correctly, so we're probably going to have to do it in half then do it from there.

Interviewer: Oh right, hmm.

P4: And we have a template of a box, which was the first idea to see if we can do it, which we're going to elaborate on that. So that box will then be spare that you can use for shelving.

Interviewer: Okay, cool. That's nice.

P4: Even though we've got the red herring top bit that didn't work out too well. (Laughter)

Interviewer: Yes. (Laughter) Oh, okay, so it doesn't fit the box?

P4: No.

Interviewer: Okay.

P4: But it's just a bit of red herring, so it's not too bad.

Interviewer: Yes, yes, yes. It's all right, it's all right. (Laughter) So how do you feel about today's session?

P4: It's been quite good.

Interviewer: Quite good?

P4: Quite productive.

Interviewer: Yes. A lot of testing and not working, eh? (Laughter)

P4: Still productive.

Interviewer: But still productive, that's good, that's good. So what are the next steps?

P4: Get one or two things printed between now and then.

Interviewer: Hmmhmm.

P4: And then getting everything together to make the final product.

Interviewer: Cool, sounds good. Looking forward to the next session.

P4: Exactly.

Interviewer: Hmm. Thank you.

P4: You're wel-
